

Experts Urge 2-Year Respite For Germany

Foreign Loan To Be Used in Stabilizing Mark at $3.400 to Dollar Also Is Suggested by Economists

Banks Offer 500 Millions
Berlin Government to Lay
Recommendations Before the Reparations Board

By Joseph Shaplen
By Wire to The Tribune

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The chief recommendation of the international experts concerning the stabilization of the mark and the rehabilitation of German finances were made public today. These recommendations contain three reports, which differ little in their principal ideas. They include a minimum two-year moratorium, suggestions for the stabilization of the mark at approximately $3.400 to the dollar, the formation of an international agreement for a loan to Germany of $100,000,000 gold marks. The loan, all three reports recommend, is to be made in the form of a moratorium covering both cash payments and payments in kind with strict application of internal measures suggested by the committee.

Banks Offer 500,000,000 Marks
With the publication of the reports was learned that definite proposals for the loan question were made by the banks. The banks, which are the Deutsche Bank, the Reichsbank and the various private banks, have agreed to raise 500,000,000 gold marks. The loan, which is to be made in the form of a moratorium covering both cash payments and payments in kind with strict application of internal measures suggested by the committee.

Under the recommendations of the experts only moderate credits would be given to Germany by the proposed international consortium at the beginning of the moratorium. The experts point out that the reserve alone would prove disastrous, this reserve must not be permitted to remain idle, but should be used in conjunction with the measures suggested for the stabilization of the mark. The experts are confident that this is possible at the rate of $3.500 to the dollar, with the possibility of lowering this figure gradually.

Experts Put Stable Mark First
BERLIN, Nov. 8. (By Associated Press).—The report of the experts who have been investigating economic conditions in Germany, Prof. Dr. H. G. O. Meyer, of the University of Bonn, and Prof. Dr. H. G. O. Meyer, of the University of Bonn, have been investigating economic conditions in Germany. The report of the experts who have been investigating economic conditions in Germany, Prof. Dr. H. G. O. Meyer, of the University of Bonn, and Prof. Dr. H. G. O. Meyer, of the University of Bonn, have been investigating economic conditions in Germany.

The report suggests that in return for a moratorium Germany should offer the Reparations Commission the following definite guarantees:
First—An independent board of exchange control, constituted as a special department within the organization of the Reichsbank, and an understanding that the Reichsbank would hold and administer the gold reserves at the disposal of such a board.
Second—So long as any part of such gold is pledged paper marks should be purchased by the board of exchange control.
Third—The agreement value of the Reichsbank's gold should not be increased beyond a defined figure, all other government requirements for credit to be covered by a funded loan.
Fourth—The agreement value of the Reichsbank's gold should not be increased beyond a defined figure, all other government requirements for credit to be covered by a funded loan.

World Keep Resources Free
It should also be provided that the resources of the board of exchange control shall be exempt from interference. The report states that on consent of the Reparations Commission the following measures the following steps should be adopted:
1. Financial co-operation and the support of an international financial consortium to be invited.
2. A foreign currency reserve, on such a scale as may be required, to be kept on a basis of the gold at the disposal of the board of exchange control in conjunction with cities which may negotiate with the international consortium.
3. Abolition of exchange regulations.

and restoration of free and unrestricted dealings in exchange and foreign securities.
It is recommended further that the bank rate be raised to a high point and dear money maintained until stabilization is quite secure. In order to concentrate into its foreign currency reserves the largest possible amount of free foreign assets of German nationals under conditions inspiring confidence, the board of exchange would issue gold bonds guaranteed by the Reichsbank at an adequate rate of interest repayable in gold in one or two years in exchange for foreign bank notes, bank balances, etc.

Fraud, Says Frank, Demanding Recount In 20th District

Charges 'Irregularities,' and Declares La Guardia Men Threatened Inspectors Unless Blanks Were for Him

Henry Frank, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 20th Congressional District, last night made public the following statement from his headquarters, 1451 Lexington Avenue.

"I do not concede the election of my Republican opponent Fiorello La Guardia as published in the evening papers to the effect that he received 8,466 votes to 8,221 credited to me. "Grave irregularity exists between the tally sheets and the police report taken. In one particular instance 100 votes in excess of the amount cast have been credited to Mr. La Guardia. This district will reduce his plurality to 45. I have affidavits in my possession from inspectors of elections in which they swear that they were intimidated and threatened with the result that hundreds of blank ballots have been credited to La Guardia. "In one election district of the 18th Assembly District the tally sheet revealed that an average of fifty blank votes exists on every office, with the exception of the office of Congress. "In many cases the election board in this Congressional district was delayed in its work until 12 o'clock today. The ladies and gentlemen serving as election inspectors had reported no work at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, and this disturbance and excitement on the part of the guerrillas kept them for over thirty hours on the board, making it impossible for them to resist the onslaughts of this band of guerrillas, resulting in many of them being unable to perform their work with any degree of intelligence.

"As a matter of fact, many of those on the Election Board observed revolvers and other weapons protruding from the pockets of these La Guardia supporters, causing them great fear and perturbation. "I intend placing all these facts before the District Attorney of this county and demanding that we be given an honest count and that these men be prosecuted."

Priest Falls to Death From Porch of Rectory

Father Veit Fatally Injured
When Railing Gives Way
as He Leans Over

Injuries suffered when he fell from the porch of his rectory caused the death last night of the Rev. James Veit, pastor of the German Roman Catholic Church of the Assumption, at 427 West Forty-ninth Street. The accident resulted from the collapse of the porch railing against which he was leaning. Father Veit was about to go to his church yesterday morning to hold mass, and had donned his surplice and cassock. The bark of his pet dog Sport brought him to the porch. He leaned over and plunged twenty feet to the ground, striking on his head. While waiting for the arrival of the ambulance from Roosevelt Hospital parishioners knelt by his body and prayed for his recovery. While communicants gathered for the mass the unconscious priest, suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries, was taken to the hospital.

Several hundred school children of the parish, on their way to the parochial school, were led by the sisters into the chapel to pray that Father Veit's life might be spared.

Auto Dealer Kills Self Because Trade Is Poor

Thomas R. Wheeler Leaves Letter to Wife Telling of Financial Worries

Thomas R. Wheeler, sixty-two years old, of the firm of Wheeler & Manning, automobile sales agents, ended his life yesterday by shooting himself in his apartment at 929 West End Avenue. Two letters were found in his clothing which intimated that financial worries had prompted the suicide.

Just before noon he asked his wife, Mrs. Lillian Wheeler, to pack a valise with some of his letters and business records and then went into the bathroom. A few moments later Mrs. Wheeler heard a shot and found her husband, with the revolver still in his hand, lying partly in the bathtub where he had fallen. He was dead.

One of the letters was addressed to his wife. It said that he had not sold a car in six weeks and that he was distressed.

Prince Caetani Named Italian Envoy to U. S.

Noted Civil Engineer, Who Worked with John Hays
Hammond Here, Chosen
Over Baron Avezzano

Selected by Mussolini
Blew Up Whole Mountain
Top to Check Austrians;
Warm Admirer of Hoover

Special Cable to The Tribune

ROME, Nov. 8.—Prince Celasio Caetani, brother of the Duke of Sermoneta, will be the new Italian Ambassador at Washington, Premier Mussolini having quashed the original appointment of Baron Avezzano Romano, which was officially announced to the press several days ago.

Prince Caetani is an engineer by profession and a Nationalist politician of some prominence. During the war he gained celebrity by the difficult engineering feat of tunneling Monte Cidli Lana. He is well known in the Western states of America, having worked with John Hays Hammond in several large engineering enterprises.

The choice of Prince Caetani is considered an admirable one here because of his familiarity with American affairs. The date of his departure for the United States has not been fixed.

ROME, Nov. 8.—Prince Caetani, newly appointed Ambassador to the United States, was on office of the engineers during the war. He laid the mine which blew up the whole top of the mountain Cidli Lana, from which the Austrians were threatening the Italian lines.

Throughout the war the prince distinguished himself and was three times decorated for bravery. After the conclusion of peace he dedicated himself to the redemption of the marsh land between Rome and Naples, where his family possesses large estates.

Prince Caetani in the last electoral campaign was chosen a deputy on the Nationalist ticket. His family is one of the noted ones of the Roman aristocracy. Born in 1877, he is now in the prime of life and is noted for his many useful activities.

Prince Caetani came into contact with Herbert Hoover in the course of his work during the war and only recently recalled with pleasure his association with the American Cabinet member, saying he owed much to that experience.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 8.—Dr. L. Martins de Souza Dantas, Brazilian Ambassador to Italy, has been appointed Dr. Gastao da Cunha, who is retiring because of ill health. Baron Oscar de Teffe, the Minister to Vienna, will succeed Dr. Dantas as Ambassador to Italy.

Dr. Von Knilling Elected Premier of Bavaria

Is Expected to Oppose Berlin;
Was Minister of Education
Under Monarchy

MUNICH, Bavaria, Nov. 8. (By The Associated Press).—Dr. Eugen von Knilling, of the German People's party, has been elected Premier of Bavaria by the Diet.

Count Hugo Lerchenfeld, the Bavarian Prime Minister, tendered his resignation to the President of the Diet on November 4. Advice from Berlin previously had announced the imminence of the resignation, owing to the government's difficulties with the agrarian party growing out of Lerchenfeld's economic proposals to the central government in Berlin. The People's party was declared to be opposed to Lerchenfeld's policy in this respect.

Advice from Munich later said the members of the Right, who were criticizing the Lerchenfeld government as being too weak and submissive, were casting about to find a leader who would stand on an "anti-Berlin" platform. It was added that the coalition parties in the government were reported to have agreed on Dr. von Knilling, who was Bavaria's Minister of Education under the monarchy.

British Election Issues Tangled By Turk Crisis

Nation Supports Bonar Law
as Lloyd George Points
Dangers to the Empire;
Few Attacks on Ministry

Political Result Puzzling
Personalities and Local Affairs in Background;
Electors Made Cautious

From The Tribune's European Bureau
LONDON, Nov. 8. — Complications arising from the situation in the Near East have developed so much confusion in the political campaign here that the most astute political prophets are more at sea than ever. Mr. Lloyd George has taken the most serious view of the position of the Allies in Constantinople, but not more so than the members of the Bonar Law government, who have the responsibility of determining the policy to be followed.

The best indication of the uncertainty and instability of affairs in Europe generally can be found in the violent depression of foreign exchanges, particularly the mark and the French and Belgian francs. It is only natural that in this period of profound worry the British electors should approach the election in an extremely cautious mood. The Lloyd George government lost the confidence of the British people because it was believed that it took too lightly the danger of war in the Near East, and to-day there is no apparent change in the determination to avoid a costly conflict unless the arrogant Turks give no other alternative.

A fortnight ago it looked as if the election would be fought out on personalities and local issues, but the developments in Constantinople have overshadowed both these features and the campaign has become an infinitely more serious affair. At a time like this the British show themselves in the best light as patriots or imperialists, or whatever term may be used to describe the way in which they unite when their country is threatened from the outside. Under a threat of foreign attack the government of the hour receives the support of all parties, and it is a noteworthy fact that at the present moment the Bonar Law government is almost immune from attack. A few days ago, or before the Near East crisis loomed up, assaults were being made on it from all quarters.

It is a matter of grave doubt whether the Bonar Law government will receive a working majority in Parliament in the election a week hence, and in the event of such a situation developing there is no doubt that a coalition will be formed with the Independent Liberals. Such a coalition might not last long, but it would survive until the period of acute crisis had been passed.
